WORKSHOP ON DIGITAL HUMANITIES

BRIDGING THE GAP BETWEEN TRADITIONAL
SCHOLARSHIP AND MODERN TECHNOLOGY

(5 - 9 FEBRUARY, 2024)

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

This workshop provides an introduction to Digital Humanities, emphasizing the use of digital tools for scholarly research and education in the humanities. It supports the interdisciplinary focus of NEP 2020, offering attendees practical skills for integrating various disciplines and applying comprehensive knowledge using team-based, data-centric techniques. The workshop aims to contemporize academic work by blending traditional humanities insights with cutting-edge technology to address modern educational and societal challenges.

Course Content:

- Overview of Digital Humanities: Evolution, key tools, e-literature, research strategies, and design principles.
- Focus on Cultural Heritage: Preservation techniques, hands-on and collaborative project presentations.
- Interactive Learning: A mix of discussions and practical exercises.

ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

The Malaviya National Institute of Technology (MNIT), located in Jaipur, was established in 1963. It has been deemed an Institute of National Importance and aims to be a center of excellence. With a lush 325-acre campus, it offers a range of undergraduate and postgraduate programs across engineering, sciences, and management. MNIT blends quality education with a commitment to research and development, serving around 5000 students with a vision of achieving world-class status.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Humanities and Social Sciences at the Malaviya National Institute of Technology, established in 1965, offers diverse undergraduate courses and an active doctoral program in subjects like English, Economics, and Sociology, among others. With nine specialized faculty members, the department actively promotes cross-disciplinary scholarly activities to enhance knowledge and engagement in the humanities and social sciences.
